Good Call

Learning to make decisions with God

Iain Dunbar & Peter Wilkinson

Pb, ISBN 978 1 80039 218 2, £12.99

Making decisions, large and small, is a daily challenge. Good Call provides a genuinely biblical approach to analysing, understanding and improving our decision-making skills in personal, professional and church life. Practical and accessible, but full of theological insight, it will help readers to evaluate their decision-making to date and develop new and better practices with God at the centre.

As the authors write in their introduction: 'We have decision-making responsibilities towards God and those around us with whom we have ongoing relationships. How we go about reaching conclusions can often be more important than what we decide in the end.' This book offers wisdom, guidance and tried-and-tested advice for making good and godly decisions in every area of our lives.

Praise for Good Call

'This book is pastoral in nature, aiming for practical, clear and godly outcomes at all levels of decision-making, accompanied by the peace of God to rule in our hearts and minds.'

Revd J. Andrew Dodd, Baptist minister and president of Churches Together in Cumbria

'I can testify to the authors' authenticity, integrity and godly wisdom that is evident throughout this book. Whether you are facing important decisions now, or at any time in the future (which is a certainty!), I would strongly commend their work to you.'

Andrew Marriott, executive director, Missionary Ventures (MotiVate) New Zealand
