Sustainability and creation care for busy people

Olivia Warburton

Pb, ISBN 978 1 80039 430 8, £6.99

Fun, practical, biblical and thoughtful, Olivia Warburton offers 111 easy eco-tips to reduce, reuse and recycle and generally go greener at Christmas. With sustainable ecofriendly ideas, she highlights the joy of giving and helps equip us to be responsible stewards at this important time of year. She says: 'I wanted to give families a tool kit for approaching Christmas differently, showing that it doesn't have to be expensive and wasteful, and hopefully removing some of the guilt and stress. I'm hoping to enable people to make choices they are happier with as well as giving the context for why it's a biblical principle to try to look after the beautiful world God has given us.'

Praise for Dreaming of a Green Christmas

'This is the perfect book to help us all celebrate and enjoy Christmas in ways that also take care of the world Jesus entered into. No need to feel guilty or stressed – Olivia guides us lightly through the maze. So get reading and get on with it!' – Dr Ruth Valerio, environmentalist, theologian, social activist and author

'Grounded in biblical wisdom and filled with practical ideas, this book serves as a catalyst for conversations about creating a slower approach to Christmas with more time for what truly matters. So when the shops start to fill with stuff we don't need, the true cost of which we can't see, dare to dream that there is another, greener way. Make a cuppa and start here...' – Helen Stephens, church relations manager, A Rocha UK

'Olivia's book offers a rare and wonderful moment when love of God, his word and his world all come together. Her reflections are thought-provoking and her advice accessible. I would recommend to anyone wanting to worship God afresh, through practical acts of love for his good creation at Christmas.' – Hannah Mann, environment programme manager, diocese of Oxford
