Hello again

'We will not hide them from their descendants; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, his power, and the wonders he has done' (Psalm 78:4, NIV).

On behalf of all of us at BRF Ministries, I want to express our deep gratitude for the generous financial and prayer support which we have received over the last twelve months.

I chose this Bible verse for this year's Annual Appeal as it reminds us of our responsibility to the next generation. The psalmist is asking to ensure that the next generation knows who God is, to understand what God has done, and what God will do, plus what God has said. It hopes that the future generations will walk with God.

We have recently been working upon a new legacy brochure to help us raise funds from gifts in wills. While speaking with supporters about why they choose to give to us and pray for us, it was really clear that our mission as a charity to enable people of all ages to grow in Christian faith is just as important now as it was when the psalm was written.

Our ministries are making a unique contribution to people's lives, while sharing our overriding passion to inspire people of all ages to grow in Christian faith. This work could not be sustained, let alone expanded, without our supporters and subscribers, charitable trusts, a steady stream of donations, and gifts in wills.

If you share the vision of BRF Ministries then with your help and prayers we can continue to deliver these remarkable ministries during what is a very challenging time for many of us.

'As an older person myself I am conscious of the importance of this ministry.'

'I have been reading BRF Ministries Bible reading notes for over 70 years, they are a daily source of encouragement to me.'

'It's wonderful seeing so many families coming to Messy Church and learning about Jesus.'

'As a grandparent I really value the resources provided by this amazing ministry.'

As a charity, we rely on fundraising and gifts in wills to deliver Anna chaplaincy, BRF Resources, Messy church and Parenting for Faith. Your gift helps us impact thousands of lives each year. Please support our work.
